Scheidle To Speak At Planning Association In the District or Out

Whether he is redistricted out of Lemon Grove or not, County Supervisor Harry Scheidle will be speaker at the Lemon Grove Planning Association's membership meeting Tuesday, September 14. It will be at the L.G. Junior High school at 7:30. Scheidle will discuss interim zoning.

The day before, his fate will have been sealed by the rest of the board of supervisors. The board is considering a change in districts that will move Scheidle's boundary west, eliminating Lemon Grove and Spring Valley from his present district and putting these communities in the proposed district of Henry Boney.

The regular meeting of the Planning Association's executive committee which would normally fall on Sept. 9 has been cancelled due to the holiday earlier in the week.

Clayne Munk, senior planner of the Community Planning Division of the Planning Department, said that the Lemon Grove plan is "just out where it ought to be" at this point.

Work programs reports are being turned in to Planning Association Jim Dorman, and some of these will be discussed at the Sept. 14 meeting.

Grand Jury May Check Appraiser's Land Deals

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Investigation of land deals by employees of the county assessor's office, including one reported purchase of desert property by the supervising appraiser in the Vista office, has been launched by the district attorney's office.

William Kennedy, assistant district attorney, said his office is "looking into possible legal implications" in the deals first reported in a statement by Ralph Nader, the consumer advocate. The D.A.'s office has asked Nader for "a bill of particulars" concerning his charges of violations of the law in the assessor's office.

"I'm sure they are interested," Kennedy said, when asked about the county grand jury's actions.

State and Federal Programs Blamed in 19c County Tax Hike

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A tax rate of $2.939 per $100 of assessed valuation was adopted by the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

The figure is 19.4 cents above that of the past fiscal year.

Hopes that the increase could be held to only about five cents did not materialize in the final figures.

Chief Administrative Officer Fred J. Morey said state fund cutbacks have forced the increase up in the county.

The local cost of Medi-Cal will be up $1,145,000, the Community Mental Health program will be up by $1,498,000, and the failure of the state to refund the business inventory tax revenue adds another 1,200,000, Morey said.

These items add 13 cents to the tax rate.

The total budget in all funds will be $288 million, but only $87 million of this will be on the local property tax.

Supervisor Jack Walsh attempted to get the board to make further cuts in line with President Nixon's freeze on wages and salaries. He argued long, but could not convince any other of the other three board members present.

Morey acknowledged that the county is increasing its tax rate while cities within the county are reducing theirs.

There is little comparison between city and county financing problems. The county performs services within the cities that cost as much or more as the total amount of some cities' total budgets.

"These include public health, Medi-Cal, mental health, welfare, and the fastest increasing service in terms of local cost — law and justice. The latter includes all the courts, district attorney, public defenders, jail, probation, honor camps and special rehabilitation programs."

He said the county is responsible for administering the problem programs of the state and federal governments, and for local revenue.

The new rate, Morey claimed, will still be one of the lowest in the state.

Morey got in a plug when he said, "San Diego County continues to enjoy the reputation as one of the best and most efficiently run county governments in the nation."

Supreme Court Decision Calls School Finance System Illegal

The California Supreme Court held Monday that the present California State school finance system is unconstitutional because it discriminates against the poor.

The Court, in its 6-1 decision ruled that children in wealthy areas have a better chance of getting a quality education than those who live in poor areas, where the tax base is small.

The Court directed a lower court, which had earlier dismissed the suit, which is a class action, to hear a group of Los Angeles area parents who brought the suit.

The decision, if upheld, would not allow districts to tax local property owners, where approximately 56% of funds for operation are appropriated.

The ruling will not have any affect on the current school year, but could become effective as early as next year.

According to local school administrators, the move will more than likely spur state legislators to pass a new school finance law.

Dr. Dale Hoffman, of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, said that presently, 55% of the average $700 spent each year to educate each student in the district is funded through local property taxes.

Hoffman added that the legislature could act as soon as next week to passs a school reform bill.

Byron Netzley, superintendent of the Lemon Grove school district agreed that the decision should bring about some action by legislators, but added that he did not think it would come so soon.

Netzley said that the current wage-price freeze would cause lawmakers to hesitate to appropriate more state aid for schools. The state currently supplies the schools with about 35% of their operating revenue.

Netzley said it was more probable that legislation would take place at the next session, which would be in time for the 1972-73 fiscal year.

The legislation that most school administrators will be eyeing in the next session will be the proposed statewide tax bill, which calls for a standard statewide tax rate, with a distribution based on the number of students in each district.

The bill would eliminate the present situation, which allows wealthier districts to spend several thousand dollars to educate a student while maintaining a low tax rate, while other districts must employ the maximum tax rate and still have only enough money to spend as little as $103 on a student's education.

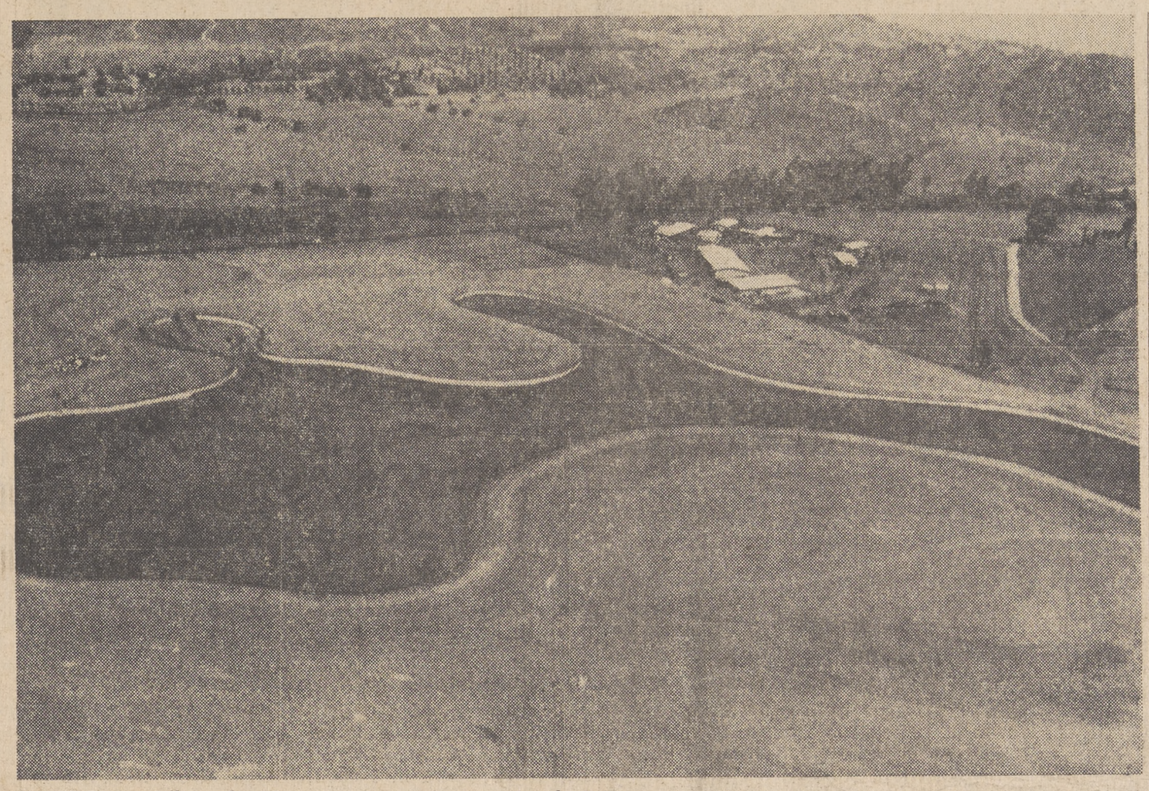

The decision could mean a disasterous situation for schools is legislation is not brought about quickly, but it is anticipated that it will have a good effect on local schools, which are in a slightly below average tax district, provided necessary laws are passed.

Construction Progressing Rapidly On 6,000-Acre Rancho San Diego Project

WATER DUE — Filling of a 15½-acre man-made recreational lake on the Rancho San Diego development was scheduled to start Wednesday. Nearly 50 million gallons of water will be needed to fill the $1 million project, which will feature fishing and sailboating for residents of the 6,000-acre Rancho San Diego development in Spring Valley. The lake, which will take 24 days to fill, is expected to be finished by October 1.

50 Million Gallons To Fill New Lake

Construction of the 6,000-acre planned residential development in Spring Valley is moving along rapidly, according to reports received from the Rancho San Diego Development Company.

The Rancho San Diego concept calls for construction of five to seven towns or "villages", housing from 75,000 to 100,000 people.

Included in the master plan are community centers for each of the "villages", local parks, swimming pools, recreational lakes, and equestrian parks and trails.

Construction on the first man-made lake in the area is scheduled to end October 1.

The 15½-acre recreational lake, which will be stocked with ring perch and bass, is new being filled with nearly 50 million gallons of water.

The lake will range in depth from four feet to 26 feet, and features over 150 acre feet of water and one mile of shoreline. Along with fishing, small sailboats will be permitted on the lake.

Cottonwood Lake, as it has been named by developers of the 6,000-acre community, has been lined with poly vinyl. Initial construction started February 15.

Rancho San Diego officials estimated that it will take 24 days to fill the lake, pumping 90,000 gallons of fresh water per hour. After the lake is filled, it is expected to take another week to complete final construction.

The project will be the center of a 75-acre landscaped mesa, where developers will construct a Rancho San Diego information center and general offices.

Also included in the master plan are shopping centers, golf courses, and elementary, junior and senior high schools, and the second campus of the Grossmont Community College.

Rancho San Diego is the first development of its kind in the San Diego area, although the village concept has proven fairly successful in Maryland, Virginia, and the Los Angeles area.

According to Len Graysen, recently appointed Chief Executive Officer of the Rancho San Diego Development Company, construction on the first models will begin at the end of this month.

Streets have already been paved in some portions of the 6,000 acres, making way for the housing contractors, who will instill 110 single family homes, 213 patio homes, 523 townhouses, and 611 apart-

LAKE LINERS — Workmen hurry to complete lining of Cottonwood Lake on the Rancho San Diego development in time to receive fresh water at a rate of 90,000 gallons per day. The lining, directed by the William Penn Company of Los Angeles, was to be completed by Wednesday, when filling was to begin.

L.G. Chamber Seeks Return of OTD Pins

Too few directors of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce's board were in attendance Thursday at the group's monthly meeting — so no action was taken on the problems under discussion.

A problem that required everybody's action except the board was Bob Russell's plea for the return of the Old Times Days lapel pins — or the money for them.

Placards, with ten lapel pins on each, were distributed just prior to the event last May. Most business houses in the community took one or more placards. So far, according to the records of the Chamber, no one has turned in neither pins nor money.

Three board members volunteered to do pick-up duty. These are the president, himself, Bob Russell, at 466-0645; Dell Lake, at Dellron's, 469-5201, and Al Woods, at the LG BoA, 294-2264.

Russell said that pins would be taken back in lieu of money. The money is needed due to a financial crisis the chamber faces at present.

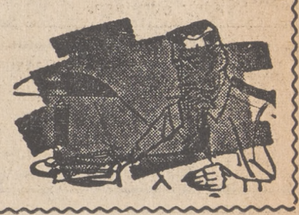

The chamber office, closed during August to cut payroll and other overhead, will reopen Tuesday, Sept. 6. Pins and money may also be turned in to Joyce Foss there from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Russell said that the Broadway improvement is static, with the need for just one additional large property owner to sign up to reach the required 60 per cent to form a service district. When this is reached, Broadway parking strips will be paved and striped. That area is presently privately owned. The center strips will be landscaped and the entire section, from Olive to Kempf, wil be swept regularly, under a service district agreement.

Service district or not, Broadway will be resurfaced. The work is scheduled for this year but bids have not been called for yet. When the resurfacing is done, even if the service district is not formed, center medians and parking control strips will be installed.

Campaigning Double Talk

We're in the midst of campaigning again with the San Diego City election featuring 15 candidates for mayor.

So far, the campaign rhetoric has been milder than you'd expect — but it may heat up as the September 21 election date draws near.

All of the above is a small introduction to the gentle art of election invective. MAD Magazine, a cartoon magazine for children which probably has 20 times more adult readers than kids, did a feature several months ago on an "All-Occasion, Non-Slanderous Political Smear Speech."

While none of the phrases are slanderous—or even vulgar, they sound as if they are. Since editors have always cavilled that readers don't really read—they just assume they understand—it may require the readers of this column to do a double take to understand what MAD'S "slander" political speaker really says!

"My fellow citizens," MAD quotes its speaker, "it is an honor for me to be here today. My opponent has openly admitted he feels a great affinity toward your city, but I happen to LIKE it."

Speaking of the opponent, it says ". . . It is a known fact that (as a child) he emulated older boys at a certain playground and that his parents permitted him to masticate excessively . . . (and) even urged him to do so. . . .

"It is not surprising that he had such a typically pristine background . . . .

"His uncle was a flagrant heterosexual . . . .

"His sister, obsessed by sects, once worked as a proselyte. . .

"His brother . . . extolled the virtues of being a homo sapiens.

"His nephew subscribes to a phonographic magazine.

"His wife was a thespian . . . and even performed in front of paying customers.

"He perambulated his infant son on the street.

"He practiced nepotism with his uncle and first cousin.

"He attempted to interest a 13-year-old girl in philately

" . . . he committed a piscatorial act on a boat that was flying the American flag

"At a time when we must be on guard against all foreign isms, (my opponent) cooly announced his belief in altrusim—and his fervent hope that this entire nation will be altruistic."

Now, are you ready for his wrap-up?

"I beg you, my friends, to oppose this man whose life work and ideas are so openly and avowedly compatible with our American way of life. A vote for him would be a vote for the perpetuation of everything we hold dear."

Careful analysis will show that the speaker hasn't really maligned anyone—and that is true of many political speeches. For those of us who are called upon to report speeches of all kinds, the no-sense ones are not restricted to the political arena.

MAD Magazine has become in recent years an excellent work of satire and bubble-bursting. For those who have begun to feel that life is becoming too amenable to moral suasion and that our leaders are prone to exacerbation which they attempt to back up by veracious statements, a subscription to MAD may (or may not) solve some of the problems.

Mrs. Oswalt Named Chairman Of Thrift House

Mrs. Dean P. Oswalt of El Cajon has been named chairman of the Thrift House, which is operated to benefit Children's Health Center, 8001 Frost St., San Diego.

Mrs. Robert Penn has been named co-chairman and Mrs. Vernon McCarty will handle the duties of treasurer.

Mrs. Oswalt is a member of the Helix Unit of the Women's Auxiliary to Children's Health Center.

Thrift House, which is located at 3590 Fifth Ave., is sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Center. Duties within Thrift House rotate each year among the 18 units of the auxiliary.

All items, which include toys, household goods and clothing, are donated to Thrift House and monies from the sale of these items benefit the Center.

Special collection days are held such as "book day," "toy day" and "nic nac day." The biggest collection days are those of the annual Thrift House variety show held in the spring where show admission is a bundle of usable clothing.

Those elected to serve on the board of directors included Mrs. David Salas, of Lemon Grove.

New Programs Due At Trinity

Trinity Presbyterian Church has scheduled new hours and programs, beginning in September.

Sunday, Sept. 12, at 9 a.m., it will be church school for all ages, and three new adult classes will be starting: "Parent Effectiveness," taught by Dr. George Venson, "Social Issues Facing the Church," led by Warren Huyser, and a Bible study.

A new membership class is to be taught by Pastor Dick Adams. At 10 a.m. there is to be a coffee fellowship; 10:30 a.m., worship, this week led by the Senior Highs; and a church school for children through 2nd grades.

Fellowships for youth will be held Sunday evenings.

Joint Meeting Due Sept. 21 Of Auxiliary

The annual fall joint meeting of the San Diego Forest Home Women's Auxiliary chapters will be a 10:30 a.m. brunch September 21 at the home of Mrs. Eugene A. McIntire of 6029 Germaine ln., La Jolla.

Welcoming members and guests will be Mrs. Frank E. Young, auxiliary board president, and Mrs. Glenn Norvell and Mrs. David Lively of Chula Vista, chapter chairmen. Mrs. Frank Dittoe will be brunch chairman.

Auxiliary officers and board members will assist as hostesses and guests will receive special nametags. More than 150 women are expected to attend. Interested women may contact Mrs. Craig L. Reynolds, 7376 Central, Lemon Grove, or phone 466-1347.

The two chapters have grown so large that they will be split into four beginning with the new year, according to Mrs. Young. The north city and county areas will be separated from the present San Diego-La Jolla unit and the South Bay area will be separated from the present eastern city and county unit.

The chapters meet monthly for Bible study and business connected with the auxiliary's activities in support of Forest Home Christian Conference Center, an interdenominational camp at Forest Falls in the San Bernardino Mountains.

SV Rotary To Meet Tomorrow

The regular weekly lunch con-meeting of the Spring Valley Rotary Club will be Friday at 12:10 p.m. in the OX Bow Inn, Campo rd., in the Casa de Oro area of Spring Valley. All Rotarians are welcome, said president Bob Brady.

Guest speaker will be John Gill, a resident of Spring Valley. A retired Lt. Col. of the Marine Corps, Gill will be speaking on his recent trip to Australia, where the convention of International Rotary was held.

His talk will be enhanced with slides. Gill is also a past president of the Lakeside-Santee Rotary Club.

The federal government has purchased 11.5 million 46-ounce cans of orange juice for welfare distribution.

"TEEPEE" TIME — When Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lambert returned with their family to their home at 8173 Baldwin, Lemon Grove, they saw the tell tale signs of a group of mischievous youngsters, who unrolled over 25 rolls of bathroom tissue to "decorate" the Lamberts' yard, house, and tree.
Actually, it was a youth group from Saint John of the Cross Church in Lemon Grove who "teepeed" the house, with advance permission from Mrs. Lambert. Four of the Lambert youngsters are members of the youth group.

Fred Bradley Is New Pastor At L.G. Church

Rev. Fred M. Bradley, who has served as a pastor at churches in Connecticutt, Oregon, Colorado, and Diamond Bar, California, took over the pastoral duties at the United Church of Christ in Lemon Grove Wednesday.

Rev. Bradley

Bradley, who has served as interim minister at the Community Congregational Church of Point Loma for the last few months, took over for interim minister Daryl Wolfe, who has served since the retirement of Ernest Fowler earlier this year.

The 38-year old Bradley received his B.A. degree in history from Dury College in Springfield, Missouri. He received his bachelor of divinity degree from the Yale University Divinity School in 1958.

He has also done graduate work at the University of Colorado and the Claremont school of Theology.

Bradley specializes in counseling. He is a licensed marriage counselor, and has done vocation guidance counseling for the last year.

He is married and the father of five youngsters. His wife, Carolie, teaches kindergarten at Tierra Santa School in the San Diego City Schools.

The Bradley's are presently residing in the University City area, but may relocate to Lemon Grove, he said.

Rev. Bradley's first Sunday service will be this weekend, and the topic of his sermon will be "Communion Meditation."

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

If a Spanish-speaking storekeeper were to ask you "Que le falta?" you might have to pause for a few seconds, reflect on the question, and even then, you may still be in doubt as to the meaning of the phrase. "Que le falta?" is translated "What are you lacking?" and suggests "Do you need something else?"

A response may begin with "Me falta" (I lack). We add to this expression the words that represent the many things that you may wish to buy. Examples of these are seen in the expressions "Me falta pan." (I lack bread.), "Me falta leche" (I lack milk.), and "Me falta tocino." (I lack bacon.).

"Me falta dinero" is a popular phrase. It is used to describe the condition which occurs when one is short or without money. It means "I lack money" and suggests "I am short of money" or "I don't have enough money."

"Le falta usted paciencia?" demonstrates another use for "le falta" and is translated "Are you lacking in patience?" An admirable quality in one's personality may be expressed "No me falta paciencia" and is translated "I am not lacking in patience." If we wish to describe someone who is lacking in patience we might say "Le falta mucha paciencia a el." (He is greatly lacking in patience.) or "Le falta mucha paciencia a ella." (She is greatly lacking in patience).

Additional variations of "le falta" may be found in the practice phrases listed below. A recorded voice, heard when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone, will lead you in pronouncing each word and sentence.

Important Phrases: Say "Que le falta?" (keh leh FAHL-tah) for "What are you lacking?"

Say "Me falta el pan." (meh FAHL-tah ehl pahn) for "I am lacking the bread."

Useful Phrases: Say "Le falta usted paciencia?" (leh FAHL-tah oo-STEHD pas-see-EHN-see-ah) for "Are you lacking in patience?"

Say "No me falta paciencia". (noh meh FAHL-tah pah-see-EHN-see-ah) for "I am not lacking in patience."

Other Phrases: Say "Le falta dinero?" (leh FAHL-tah dee-NEH-roh) for "Are you lacking money."

Say "Me falta un poco dinero." (meh FAHL-tah oon POH-koh dee-NEH-roh) for "I am lacking a small amount of money."

Recreation Dept. Plans Schedule Of Fall Classes

School bells will soon be ringing — and the fall semester classes of the La Mesa Recreation Department will soon be starting. Time to register for these popular activities will be September 13-24, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., at the Nan Couts Girls Cottage, 8440 University ave.

Classes begin the week of October 4th. Several new classes have been scheduled. One such class is "Family Folk Dancing," open to adults and children 12 and over, accompanied by a parent. The instructor is well known throughout the area and the class promises to be very popular.

Drama and art complement the dancing classes and the sports activities that are traditionally offered to provide a wide range of classes, designed to fit everyone's interests.

Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis for all classes, which include acrobatics, art, ballet, ballroom dancing, baton, charm and modeling, grooming and poise, drama, folk dancing, hula, jazz, pre-school, square dancing, tap dancing, archery, golf, gymnastics, karate, skin and scuba diving, table tennis, and wrestling.

For further information, contact the La Mesa Recreation Department at 469-4128, extension 33.

Death Claims R. Webb Carson Well-known Youth Sports Figure

Funeral services were held Monday at the Lemon Grove Methodist church for R. Webb Carson, 57, of 6745 Hibiscus st., Lemon Grove.

He died Thursday at Grossmont hospital following a three-weeks illness. He lived in Lemon Grove 14 years after being transfered here from Los Angeles by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. for which he was division sales manager. He had been associated with the firm 32 years.

Carson was born in Saluda, S. Carolina and served in the Marine Corps during WWII.

In Lemon Grove he was active in youth sports as president of the L.G. Little League, L.G. Pony League, La Mesa Colt League and L.M. American Legion Baseball team.

He was active in the Indian-Y Indian Guides, L.G. Cub Scouts and the O.K. Ingraham Ship VFW. He was a member of the S.D. Grocers club and president of the S.D. Food Industry Golfer's Assn.

He was a member of the L.G. Masonic Lodge No. 736 and of the L.G. Methodist church where the services were held.

A private interment service followed at El Camino Memorial Park under the direction of Conrad's Mortuary.

He is survived by his wife, Dove, two sons, Tom of Los Angeles and Judd of La Mesa, and a sister in Greenwood, S.C.

C. D. Barnett

Entombment was in Greenwood Mausoleum last Friday for Charles D. Barnett, 88, of 7150 Broadway, Lemon Grove, who died August 22 at Grossmont Hospital.

His body lay in state at Greenwood through last Thursday evening.

Barnett, a native of Kentucky, lived here for 52 years. His last employment was as a hotel manager for R. E. Seol.

He is survived by a stepdaughter, Mrs. Thelma A. Jordan.

R. A. Ricketts

Services were held last week in Jetmore, Kansas, for Ray Allen Ricketts, 57, of 10707 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, who died August 23 at Grossmont Hospital.

A native of Missouri, Ricketts lived here for 25 years, and was a letter carrier for the U.S. Post Office for eight years.

Interment was in Fairmount Cemetery, in Jetmore. Featheringill Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

Ricketts is survived by his widow, Vivienne I. Ricketts, a brother, and four sisters.

E. S. Babcock

Memorial services were held Tuesday morning in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for Emery S. Babcock, 83, of 8668 Valencia dr., Spring Valley, who died August 27 at his residence.

A native of New York, Babcock lived in San Diego nearly all his life, as his family moved here when he was only a few months old. He worked for eight years with the Gordon Howerton Plumbing Company.

Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Babcock is survived by his widow, Hazel; a son, Emery, of El Cajon; and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Williams, of Lemon Grove.

R. L. Scott

Memorial services were held August 24 at Callahan Mission Mortuary in Garden Grove, California, for R. L. Scott, 39, of 10152 Dewey dr., Garden Grove, who died August 19 at his home.

Scott, a native of Elk City, Oklahoma, lived for over 30 years in Lemon Grove, where he was employed at Lane's Men's Wear for several years.

He served with the United States Army Signal Corps in Japan from 1949 to 1952. His last occupation was with Mann Manufacturing, manufacturers of men's clothes.

Interment was in Greenwood Memorial Park.

Scott is survived by his wilow, Lita; a son, Robert, age 15; a daughter, Vickie, age 17; a brother, James Lane; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Lane, of Lemon Grove.

J. C. Orrell

Recitation of the Rosary was held Sunday evening at Saint John of the Cross Catholic Church in Lemon Grove for James C. Orrell, 38, of 2348 Peppermint lane, Lemon Grove who died last Wednesday of injuries received in a dune buggy crash in Baja, California.

Requiem Mass was celebrated Monday morning for the Hawaii-born Orrell, who was a patrolman for the San Diego Police Department. Goodbody Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Orrell served for four years with the United States Air Force as a Staff Sergeant during the Korean conflict. He was a member of the San Diego police force for seven years, and was a member of the San Diego Elks Lodge.

Interment was in Fort Rosecrans National Cemetery, with members of the San Diego Police Officers Association, of which he was a member, officiating.

Survivors include his widow, Robbie; three sons, Michael, Martin, and Russell Orrell; and a sister, Mrs. Lamont Northington, of San Diego.

B. McCabe

Memorial services have been scheduled for this afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Little Chapel of the Roses at Greenwood Mortuary for Mrs. Bernice McCabe, 63, of 2230 Main st., Lemon Grove, who died Tuesday morning of a heart attack.

Mrs. McCabe, who was born in Texas while her family was enroute to Lemon Grove in 1908, was reared in Lemon Grove, where she worked for the Lemon Grove Packing Company for 20 years. Her father was a local cement contractor who installed the steps at the old Lemon Grove school.

Interment will be in Greenwood Memorial Park.

Mrs. McCabe is survived by her husband, Everette; a daughter, Francis, both of Lemon Grove; a brother, Ralph Brower; and eight sisters. They are, Hazel Kratz, of Lemon Grove; Louise Hamlet of Lakeside; Grace Berdel, of La Mesa; Betty Perratt, of Lakeside; Ruth Beck, of Virginia; Dora Ives, of Bakersfield; Alice Fletcher, of Santa Barbara; and Gloria McLaughlin, of Vista.

Art Mart Exhibit Scheduled For September 11, 12

The San Diego Art Mart Association is sponsoring its annual Fall Art Mart Exhibit, where over 200 artists will display 10,000 works of painting, craft, and sculpture, starting at 10 a.m. September 11.

The affair, which is San Diego's largest outdoor art festival, will be held at Sixth and Laurel in Balboa Park and run from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. both September 11 and 12.

All articles, which will include oil paintings, ceramics, sculptures, weaving, pastels, drawings, and other works of art, will be for sale.

Special guest of the exhibit will be John Novy, Austrian-born potter, who will give demonstrations both days at 2 p.m.

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will have a host of artists exhibiting their works.

Those from Lemon Grove expected to participate are Buelah Greenlee, Patricia and Edward Suggs, Gloria Palmer, Nora Thompson, and Nell Smith.

Spring Valley participants will include Lawrence Jones, Jim and Helen Goodall, Rita Small, Emily Austin, Arus Brandon, H. E. Craddoct, Tony Reinbolt, and Hamilton Etalnacher.

Also from Spring Valley will be Arin Wiley, Loretta Thompson, Charles Kastringer, Nina and Kenneth Hostetler, and Robert Landry.

Jacqueline Grabanski Wins Sales Award

Mrs. Jasqueline Grabanski, 1469 San Altos place, Lemon Grove, was honored Sunday for sales excellence while attending the Tupperware Jubilee sales conference in Logan, Utah, last week.

She received an award for being one of the top 30 managers among the 2,000 salespeople attending the annual event.

Mrs. Grabanski is a manager with Party Plastics, Tupperware distributors in the San Diego area.

Spiders are boneless.

HOSTESSES—Mrs. John Pecoraro, left, and Mrs. Sal Giacinto, members of the Lemon Grove Italian Catholic Federation, get in a few minutes' practice at pouring coffee in preparation for the 41st annual National Convention of the Italian Catholic Federation, which this year will be held in San Diego. The two local women will be among those serving as hostesses at the affair, which gets underway tomorrow at the El El Cortez Hotel.

ICF Convention This Weekend At El Cortez

The 41st Annual Nation Convention of the Italian Catholic Federation will be held tomorrow through Monday at the El Cortez Hotel, in the Century and International Rooms, it was announced last week.

The ICF, inaugurated in 1924 by Luigi Providenza, of San Francisco, today includes over 200 branches — 13 of which are in San Diego — and over 46,000 members.

The convention will start at 2 p.m. tomorrow with registration of delegates, and the official opening will be at 8:30 p.m. The first night of the convention will be "Mexican Night," with Mexican dress, food, and entertainment planned.

The following evening will feature a prime rib dinner and a semi-formal dance, designed to afford members and delegates an opportunity to relax and get acquainted.

On Sunday evening, a Pontificial Concelebrated Mass will take place, celebrated by eight bishops. Every bishop in California has been invited to attend the affair, which will be followed by "Italian Night", with Italian food and entertainment.

The convention will close at about noon Monday, when a site for the 1972 convention will be chosen.

Pony Club Show Set

The Rainbow Pony Club will hold its annual horse show on Saturday, September 18 at 9 a.m. in the Pony Club ring on Russell Road, Mount Helix.

There will be twenty classes, including English and Western, judged by Kaye Edmondson of the Singing Hills Riding Club. A high point trophy, and ribbons for first place thru sixth, will be awarded. Entry fee is $1.50. Mrs. Jeanne Milton is chairman of the show. She may be reached at 442-6556.

Final Visits To Padreland For Braves, Reds, Dodgers

The Braves, Reds and Dodgers make their final San Diego appearance of the season as the Padres open a nine-game home stand tomorrow night at the Stadium.

In the past, September has been the Padres most productive month. It figures to be even better this year.

For one thing, pitchers Clay Kirby and Dave Roberts each seek to surpass the club record (14) for the most victories by a pitcher in one season.

For another, the team is striving to overtake last year's 63 game win mark.

And for another, the presence of so many young Padre future stars on the squad promises to add a dash of drive for a successful conclusion to the 1971 season.

Pitchers Mike Caldwell (from Lodi) and Jay Franklin (from Tri-Cities) along with Mike Ivie (from Lodi) will be added to the squad. And being recalled from Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League are pitcherse Gary Ross and Mike Corkins along with outfielders Rod Gaspar and Jerry Morales.

Fans also will have their first glance at San Diego's latest rookie sensation, pitcher Ed Acosta, acquired from Pittsburgh along with outfielder John Jeter as part of the Bob Miller trade. The 6-5, 225-pound Acosta, San Diego's jolly but good green giant, shut out the Phils 2-0, in his first major league start.

The schedule sends the Braves into town for the Labor Day weekend with night games Friday and Saturday and a day game on Sunday.

A holiday night game Monday will open the Cincinnati invasion, with the Reds remaining for evening skirmishes Tuesday and Wednesday.

Then the Dodgers show up, Thursday and Friday night and Sunday afternoon, Sept. 9, 10 and 12.

VA Says No To Railroad Car Home

Is a "track-going" railroad car on a siding a mobile home under Veterans Administration G.I. home loan regulations? VA loan guaranty officials recently had to think about that one for awhile.

It all came about when a veteran became interested in a railroad car — complete with dishes and silverware — a bargain at $10,000, he said, which he planned to use as his home. Would the VA guarantee the loan, since the railroad car is mobile and meets size requirements, he wanted to know.

Officials conceded that the railroad car was mobile since, as the would-be purchaser suggested, a locomotive could pull it. Also, it was indeed at least 40 feet long and 10 feet wide, with a minimum of 400 square feet, as required by regulations.

But the railroad car runs afoul of at least one regulation, loan guaranty officials pointed out. A mobile home, they explained, must be placed on a lot owned or to be purchased by the veteran — or placed on a VA-approved rental site, either of which must be acceptable to the VA.

While VA officials gave the veteran an "A" for effort, they concluded that there just aren't too many railroad car sidings which qualify as mobile home sites.

Women Voters To Kick Off Year Sept. 11

The Grossmont League of Women Voters will begin the fall season with its annual "Kick-off" luncheon September 11, at the Bronze Room, 8998 La Mesa blvd., La Mesa. A social hour at 11:30 a.m. will be followed by luncheon at 12:15 p.m.

Dr. James Runge, new superintendent of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District will speak to the group on "Philosophy and Goals in Education." A question and answer period will follow.

The luncheon is open to all interested women in the area, whether league members or not. Price of the luncheon is $3.10.

Dogs to Go Again At Caliente Sat.

AGUA CALIENTE — After an enforced vacation of a month, "Pepito," the mechanical rabbit, will resume his chore of leading racing dogs around the quarter mile track as the Caliente Greyhound Club goes into action again with a double header program next Saturday.

Shut down after a fire August 5 destroyed the plant, the sport will be reactivated with a Labor Day weekend schedule which also includes a twin bill Sunday and a matinee Monday afternoon. The daylight cards commence at 2 p.m., and racing under the lights will be at 8 p.m.

Crews are working around the clock clearing away debris and installing temporary facilities to accommodate fans. The spectator area will be on the expansive cement apron in front of the old grandstand and actually will be closer to the action than previously. Special totalisator equipment for wagering is being shipped in, and snack counters, cocktail bars and other public conveniences will be ready for the opening.

As a highlight of the weekend the track is offering free admission and will present on each of the five programs a 49er Gold Rush, dog racing's counterpart to horse racing's popular 5-10 handicapping contest.

TEAMWORK — Jose Cravo of El Cajon, left, and Carl Stanford of San Diego, team up with other Center Navy civil service employees in removing a gear from the Camp Pendleton oven. The oven was disassembled by the PWC team and crated for shipment to Kaflavik, Iceland.

Public Works Center Transports 2½-Ton Oven To Iceland Base

The San Diego Navy Public Works Center will go half-way around the world to satisfy Navy needs. A Center job presently in progress falls into this category.

The task concerns a large oven aboard the giant Camp Pendleton Marine Base. The job calls for disassembly, packing, shipping and providing supervision for installing the item again aboard the Naval Station, Kaflavik, Iceland.

So what would you do if you had a pastry oven 18 feet long by 12 feet wide high comprising 216 square feet and weighing 5,000 pounds, for shipment to Iceland? "If you're a good businessman with a desire for covering all bases you would likely call the San Diego Navy Public Works Center," was the way a spokesman for the two commands explained it. And that's what they did.

Until July 7, Marine bakers used the oven with a capacity for baking up to 548 pounds of bread at a time. Or on holidays they could bake 432 loaves of bread and 80 pans of rolls or cakes at a setting.

Meanwhile, this particular Camp Pendleton bakery was closed July 7 and the oven declared surplus. But half-way around the world the men aboard the Naval Station Kaflavik, Iceland had a need for the oven. The Navy Public Works Center entered the picture by offering the expertise and manpower for the successful job accomplishment.

Recently Jose Cravo of El Cajon headed a PWC team spending a week at Camp Pendleton, taking the oven apart and packing it for shipment to Iceland. He was assisted by Carl Sanford of San Diego, Jack Harmon of Pauma Valley, Walt Grigsby of 1407 Arcadia ave., Lemon Grove; Glen Measel of Imperial Beach; and Wally Boguta of San Diego.

The oven is enroute to Iceland. Cravo has been assigned the additional task of on-site supervision at Kaflavik involving reassembly of the oven and putting it in working order. A host of PWC employees volunteered for the job but Cravo was selected because of his wide background associated with this kind of equipment. He serves the Center as a Maintenance Machinist and was designated the Field Engineer for this project.

However, successful accomplishment of any project involves close teamwork cooperation throughout and this oven job is no exception. The task involved not only Navy Public Works Center employees but other people outside the command.

And membership in professional organizations often play a role in successful project completion. And finally knowing the right person at the right place at the right time also has a bearing on successful completion of a particular project.

"The Navy Public Works Center is a service organization and we owe it to the Navy to provide service where and when it's needed. The Center has a request involving this oven and it's the type of job you can't turn down. I have been overseas and know how frustrating it can be in getting work projects accomplished," Bob Foster, deputy of the Center Maintenance Control Department, explained.

Of major importance is a good working background knowledge on individual PWC employees. This helps in the selection process when a particular talent is needed for a particular job.

"During the early stages of the project I needed specific information as to whether the oven was gas or electric operated. This point was important concerning estimating the job.

"I belong to the American Institute of Plant Engineers and just happens one of the society members, Les Hammett, is a general foreman in the mechanical area at Camp Pendleton. So all that was required to gain the necessary information in this case was a short phone call," Foster said.

Background experience of who to call to get information and help in job accomplishment most always plays a role in successful job completion. It was a factor in this oven job.

Modern Hebrew Course Planned

Grossmont Adult School is offering a class in Modern Hebrew beginning September 13 at La Mesa Porter Hall, University and La Mesa blvd., from 9-11:30 a.m.

Students will be taught reading, writing and speaking Modern Hebrew on beginning, intermediate and advanced levels with a special emphasis on basic conversation.

Mrs. Gertrude Yellin, instructor, will accept enrollments at any time throughout the year. For further information call Helix Adult office 463-8717 or 465-3131, Ext. 275.

Color Film Is Released

"Gangway to Paradise," a 16mm, 27½-minute, color and sound motion picture filmed aboard the superliner Oriana during one for her winter cruises to Mexico and the Caribbean, has been released by P & O, the British cruise line.

In addition to shipboard sequences, the film depicts the Panama Canal transit and visits to Acapulco, Mazatlan, Puerto Vallarta, Curacao, Caracus, Barbados and St. Thomas.

Travel agencies and other groups can arrange for a screening by calling the P & O office in their area.

LMSV District Modified Staff Holds Meeting

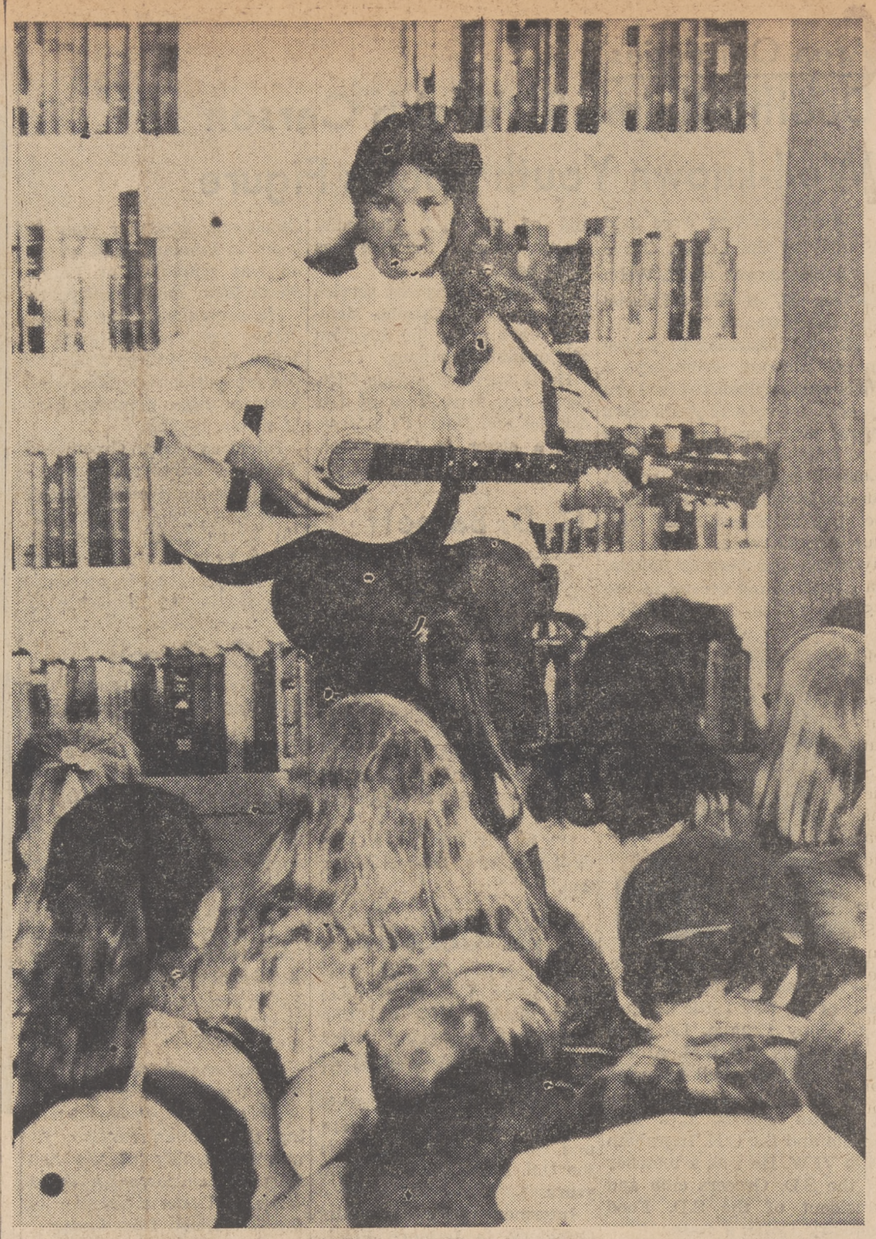

Seventy-one teacher and administrative representatives from the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District met for two days this week for their annual "Modified Staff Fall Conference." The group met at Pine Valley to hear two personalities talk about "Humanizing Education."

First on the agenda was Dr. Leland Newcomer, president of La Verne College. Newcomer gained national recognition as an innovator in educational administration and instructional leadership.

Barry Sherman, director of school services for the Macmillan Educational Services, Inc., conducted the second day's activities. Sherman, former editor, lecturer, teacher, and assistant professor, has gained national recognition for his creativity and effectiveness in working with groups of teachers.

The "Modified Staff," formed in 1962, was intended to bring about closer communication between administrators and all members of the staff. In addition, the group studies problems within the district, provides in-service leadership and makes recommendations to the superintendent.

Now going into its twelfth successful year, the group's aim is to work closely in understanding the humanization of educating youngsters.

READING PROGRAM — Joyce Howarth, of Spring Valley, and an employee of the San Diego County Library, was on hand to entertain local youngsters in the Library's reading program at the group's final summer event at the Casa de Oro branch last Tuesday. Miss Howarth, a music major at the University of California at Santa Barbara, was joined by puppeteer Ingrid Pfeiffer at the event. At the affair, youngsters were presented with reading certificates if they had read 10 or more books during the summer.

Record Enrollment Set For Grossmont Adult School

Record enrollment is predicted by Grossmont Adult School officials for September 13 opening of the fall semester. Over 400 different day and evening classes will provide a variety of subjects for adults of all ages.

A strong academic program the school prepares over three hundred students for high school diplomas each year and well over forty percent of the entire program is designed to provide vocational education.

El Cajon Adult School, 1035 Madison Ave., El Cajon has scheduled ninety different classes ranging in interest from "auto shop" to "oil painting." Information and counseling will be available after September in the Adult office at El Cajon High School. The number to call is 442-2401.

Helix Adult School, 7323 University ave., La Mesa, headed by Leonard Busch, will offer a wide variety of classes with emphasis on languages. For the health-minded there will be classes in "crisis care in the home," first aid," "childbirth education," "drugs and the family crisis," "physical fitness and yoga." For information regarding classes to be offered at Helix call after September 1, 463-8717 or 465-3131, Ext. 275.

Mt. Miguel Adult, 1800 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley is opening the semester with 40 different classes in a wide range of subjects. For the first time evening classes will be offered at Monte Vista High School, 3230 Sweetwater Springs blvd., Spring Valley. For information call Mt. Miguel Adult office after Sept. 1, 469-6169.

Schedules listing classes at ten evening locations and 20 daytime locations are mailed to residents of the Grossmont Union High School District and placed in give-away boxes in local post offices and libraries. For general information call Grossmont Adult School office 465-3131, Ext. 275, between 8 a.m. and 4:40 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Reunion Picnic Set

All former residents of Scottsbluff, Nebraska, have been invited to a reunion picnic scheduled for September 19 at Felicitas Park, in Escondido.

The reunion picnic will get underway at noon, with former residents of Scottsbluff and their families bringing their own picnic baskets. For further information, contact Allan Westphalen, at 442-7660.

Trout Plant To Assist Anglers At San Vicente

When San Vicente Lake opens September 16, the promise of its widely acclaimed warm water bass fishing takes on additional weight — 25,000 lbs. worth — with the California State Fish and Game Department's trout plant this season.

San Diego Recreation Department spokesmen announced recently that San Vicente will be open four days a week — Thursday through Sunday — giving anglers better-than-ever odds at the lake's renown lunkers.

At least 150 boats and 75 motors will be moved from El Capitan Lake to San Vicente for the long awaited opening. El Capitan brings its productive season to a close on Sept. 6.

Boats rent for $2 half-day, $3 full day. Out-board motor rentals are an additional $4 half-day, $5 full day. For boat and motor reservations, call 460-2944. Private boat launching fee is $2.

The concessionaire offers the required daily recreation permits. Rates are adults, $1.50; youths aged 8-15, 75 cents; and children seven and under, free. Fishing licenses are also available at regular rates. Holders of "Free State Fishing Licenses" may fish at no charge on weekdays only.

France's new minimum wage rate is 69 cents an hour.

Testing Due For U.S. Coast Guard Academy

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U. S. Coast Guard, Class of 1976.

Appointments to the Coast Guard Academy are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to December 15, and candidates must arrange to participate in the prescribed College Entrance Examination Board test by the December 4 administration.

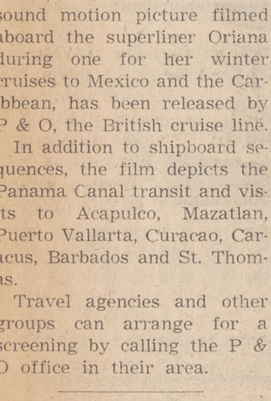

The competition for appointment as Cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, his performance on the Scholastic Aptitude Test, English Composition Achievement Test, and his leadership potential as demonstrated by his participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs or part-time employment.

Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried and must have reached his 17th, but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1872. The minimum educational requirement is a high school diploma. Applicants must also have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill the basic physical and moral requirements.

Parents should keep a watchful eye on children when in or near the water. More than half of all pool drowning victims are youngsters under the age of ten. An unattended small child can quickly get into big trouble.

Chargers, Rams Tangle At Coliseum Tomorrow

Summer neighbors in friendly Orange County, the San Diego Chargers and Los Angeles Rams renew their preseason rivalry at the L.A. Coliseum Friday night. Kickoff is at 8:15 p.m.

The game will be televised in San Diego on KCST-39 by Bob Chandler and Al Wester and broadcast on KDEO and the Charger network by Stu Nahan and Ralph Lawler.

Monday morning breakfast at the Charger camp at UC Irvine had an extra splash of juice. A newspaper story quoted Ram Coach Tommy Prothro as promising, "We're going after the Chargers with everything we've got. We'll play it like the regular season."

Charger Coach Sid Gillman sipped his coffee, and replied, "I'm very happy that Coach Prothro has decided to come after us. It will be a fine opportunity to see what kind of football team we have."

For Gillman, who coached the Rams from 1955-59 and the L.A. Chargers in 1960, Friday night's game will be "the first time I have been on the opposite side of the field" at the Coliseum. Gillman, as general manager, was in the press box when the Rams handed the Chargers their worst defeat of last year, 37-10.

While most of the Chargers have that one bitter memory of the Coliseum, to Mike Garrett it is a return to home and happiness. Garret, who joined the Chargers midway through 1970, will wear the No. 20 which he immortalized during a brilliant USC career climaxed by the Heisman Trophy.

Making their first Coliseum appearances will be Charger rookie stars Leon Burns and Billy Parks from Cal State Long Beach. With 13 catches, Parks is tied with San Diego's all-star receiver, Gary Garrison, for summer receiving honors.

McNab Taps Singer For Hockey Aide

Jack Singer has been named Administrative Assistant for the San Diego Gulls Hockey Club, it was announced Monday by Max McNab, General-Manager-Coach of the Gulls.

Singer, 27, wil be in charge of promotions, as well as development of group sales and season ticket plans. He will also have other administrative duties within the Gulls' organization.

Singer worked with the San Diego Rockets of the National Basketball Association last year. Prior to coming to San Diego, he was Coordinator of Sports for NBC Sports in New York.

Singer is a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a 1965 graduate of Princeton University, where he majored in political science. He did graduate work at the Harvard School of Business, and also played professional baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals' organization.

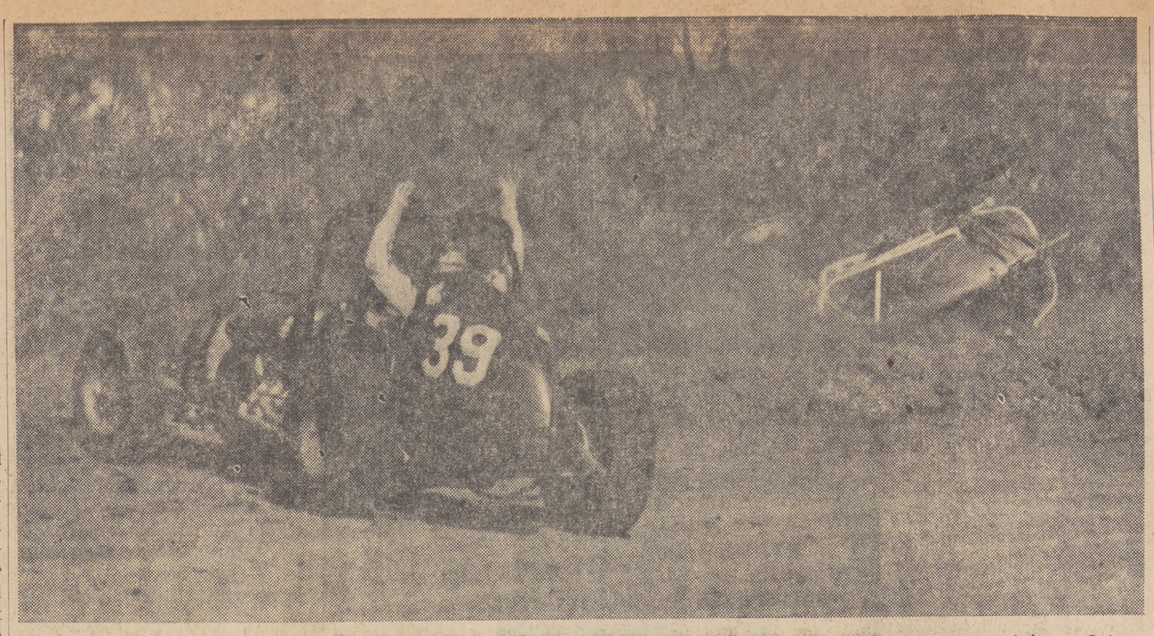

Pad Fans To Get Pictures

Team picture night will be Monday, the evening of Labor Day when the Padres face the Reds at the Stadium.

Every one who attends the Sept. 6 game will receive a color picture of the 1971 team. This 11x15 color picture, with the autograph of every Padre player, is suitable for framing and makes a fine souvenir.

The Padres-Reds game starts at 7:30 following the ceremonies celebrating Labor Night.

Tickets mal be obtained at the Padre ticket office which opens at 10 a.m. daily.

OFF THE TRACK — Ralph Tresser, of Lemon Grove, flips his Chevy-powered sprint car off the third turn in racing action at El Centro last year, while Jerry Clark starts out of his machine to render aid. Tresser was not hurt in the accident. Sprint cars will race into action tomorrow night at Cajon Speedway at Gillespie Field. Nine sprint events will be topped off by a 30 lap main event. Qualifying will start at 6:30 p.m. and the first race will be at 8 p.m.

Tickets Go On Sale For Warrior's 7 Games Here

SAN DIEGO, Calif — Season ticket reservations for the seven Golden State Warriors National Basketball Association games at San Diego Sports Arena in 1971-72 are now available.

Tickets will be sold on a 7-ticket, season basis and may be reserved at the Sports Arena ticket office or by calling the Warriors new 24-hour telephone number 224-2447.

Season seat prices for the seven dates are $42, $35, $28, $21, and $17.50. Accredited college and high school students as well as armed forces personnel in uniform will be offered a reduced price on general admission tickets — Season, $8.75; Per Game, $1.25.

"We have scheduled the finest NBA teams and talent for San Diego basketball fans," said Marvin Kratter, who is directing the Warriors' San Diego operation. "Three of the seven dates will feature the Houston Rockets and the Big E, Elvin Hayes."

The first appearance by the Warriors will be Saturday, October 9, against the Los Angeles Lakers in the feature game of a pre-season doubleheader. Houston will meet Sidney Wicks and the Portland Trail Blazers in the opener at 6:30 p.m.

The remainder of the Warriors schedule here is as follows:

Fri., Oct. 29 vs. Chicago, 8:00 p.m.

Sun., Nov. 21 vs. Houston, 7:00 p.m.

Tue., Dec. 7 vs. Atlanta, 8:00 p.m.

Fri., Jan. 14 vs. New York, 8:00 p.m.

Tue., Feb. 1, vs. Milwaukee, 8:00 p.m.

Fri., Mar. 3 vs. Houston, 8:00 p.m.

Fillies in Test For West Crown

DEL MAR — Del Mar heads into its big Labor Day holiday weekend Saturday, riding the crest of its most successful season in history.

Saturday's headliner is the 19th running of the $25,000 Escondido Handicap, a mile and one eighth test on the infield turf course for several stakes runners who might perform well enough to earn a shot in the $75,000 Del Mar Handicap on Sept. 11.

Monday's Labor Day biggie will be the 21st presentation of the rich Del Mar Debutante expected to gross in excess of $60,000. This six furlong event for 2-year-old fillies will decide the Western championship of the division and an all-star field is in prospect.

Chargerette, San Diego-owned and bred, will be the likely Debutante choice. This highly consistent miss is undefeated in four starts and has won the Junior Miss and Sorrento Stakes in her last two trips postward at Del Mar. She is expected to be supplemented to the Debutante at a fee of $4000.

Osborne Fails In Bid For 4th Straight Win

As qualifying runs came to a close last Saturday evening at Cajon Speedway, it looked like super stock fans would be in for more of the same action that took place the three weeks before.

As 8 p.m. rolled around, the fastest qualifying time recorded for the night was 18.85 seconds for a single trip around the 3/8 mile paved oval, and it belonged exclusively to Jim Osborne, of Brookside, who seemed destined to claim his fourth main event win in a row.

The four-lap trophy dash was then won by Jim Hitt, of Lemon Grove, but Osborne's machine still appeared to be the favorite in the main event.

The heat races were then run to determine starting positions, and Hitt finished next-to-last. Osborne still looked like the man to beat.

And then the green flag came down for the start of the main event, with Russ Bullen, of Bonita on the inside pole position and Bill Thein on the outside.

The bubble broke for Osborne on the first lap as he was bumped into the infield and started a half-lap behind the pack.

By the time the local youngster maneuvered his machine back into the race, the pack was closed up by a yellow flag when John Borneman spun into the wall, taking Ed Hale, of Lemon Grove, and Tom Zelesky with him. On the restart, Zelesky was the only one of the trio able to race.

Osborne then started his long trip through traffic in an effort to make his way to the front. Meanwhile, Hitt had moved up and was trying to break into the top five cars.

As the checkered flag came down on the blanket finish, Bill Thein claimed victory by half a car length over Bullen, with John Dineen and Jim Hitt within spitting distance.

Mark Stahl finished fifth, but Osborne was not able to get to the front in time, and was about half a lap behind the leaders.

The week's action left Hitt 590 points ahead of second place Tex Kimbrell in the point standings, Pat McIntyre, of Spring Valley, in fourth place, and Osborne seventh.

It'll be a battle between Hitt and Osborne as they go after their eight and fifth main event wins of the year Saturday night in the Labor Day Weekend 50-lap open competition race.

Also on tap at the Speedway is a special sprint car program tomorrow night, featurning the likes of Don Hamilton and Curt Waters.

Next week, even more auto action is scheduled, as the Mustang Thrill Show comes to Cajon Speedway Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

National City Rodeo Slated Sept. 11, 12

National City's fourth annual Spurs and Saddles Rodeo will be held September 11 and 12 at Kimball Park, 12th st. and D ave., National City. All traditional rodeo events will be featured, including bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping and team roping.

Presented by the National City Community Rodeo Association, with events governed by the rules of the Professional Rodeo Cowboy's Association, the rodeo will begin at 8 p.m. Saturday and resume for its finale at 2 p.m. Sunday. Parts of all events will be held on both days.

In addition, a western dance will be held on the rodeo grounds following the Saturday night portion of the rodeo. It will be presided over by a rodeo queen who will be crowned September 10 at a luncheon at the National City Community Building.

The Rodeo Association is also holding a brand contest to pick an appropriate brand to symbolize the annual rodeo in years to come. Plans are to offer a trip to Las Vegas as a prize in this contest.

Seven Minor League Stars To Join Pads

The San Diego Padres have recalled four players from Hawaii, its affiliate in the Pacific Coast League and bought contracts of three players in its minor league system.

The players are pitchers Gary Ross and Mike Corkins, and outfielders Rod Gaspar and Jerry Morales. They are to report to the Padres Friday at the conclusion of the Pacific Coast League playoffs if Hawaii is involved.

Players the Padres are taking title to in the minors include Mike Caldwell of the Lodi club in the California League; catcher Mike Ivie of Lodi, and pitcher Jay Franklin of Tri-Cities in the Northwest League. These players also report to San Diego Friday.

Ivie was San Diego's first round selection in the June 1970 free agent draft while Franklin was the team's first round pick last June.

The 19-year-old Ivie was batting .300 in 94 games with Lodi.

The 18-year-old, right-handed Franklin, has a 7-3 record including 119 strikeouts in 84 innings with Tri-Cities.

Caldwell, a 22-year-old left-handed relief pitcher, had a 4-1 record with four saves at Lodi.

Ross, who started the season with the Padres, was 7-9 at Hawaii and Corkins was 8-8. Gaspar was batting .276 with 25 stolen bases and Morales was hitting .257 through games of August 24 for the Islanders.

Westphalen Returns From Europe Tour

Jeff Westphalen, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Warnstedt, of Lemon Grove, returned home August 22 after a tour of Holland and Europe with the Claremont Men's College baseball team.

His tour began when the team participated in a tournament at Haarlem, Holland, which the team won. Included in the tourney was a doubleheader victory over all-star teams from Belguim and France.

After the tournament, Westphalen remained in Holland, where he coached youngsters in the fundamentals of baseball. He and another member of the team, Don Lewis, then spent two weeks traveling all over Europe before returning home.

Westphalen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Westphalen, of El Cajon, will attend Claremont Men's College this fall.

CHECKOUT TIME — Rick Wells, left, and Tim Miller, both candidates for the varsity football squad at Mount Miguel High School this year, check out gear from head coach Dwight Morris. Physicals and gear checkouts took place at Mount Miguel Monday in preparation for the upcoming football season. The first workouts started Wednesday, with the first game action scheduled for September 17, when the Matadors will lock horns with Grossmont in one quarter of the Grossmont League Football Carnival.

Countdown Beains On Aztec Season Opener

The wait is over, but now the wait begins.

This may sound a little confusing, but it's not. Quite simply, the waiting period for fall football practice to begin at San Diego State is over. However, the waiting is just beginning as State must start another countdown to the season opener on September 25 against Southern Mississippi in Jackson, Miss.

Coach Don Coryell greeted 59 prospects Sunday and then promptly began two-a-day drills Monday. Running all week long, the Aztecs will take to the turf daily at 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. The Aztecs will go only in the morning on Saturday and will take the entire day off on Sunday.

"We're optimistic about the coming season," commented Coryell. "We lost a lot of players from last year's team and it's way too early now to pass any true judgments on the new kids. However, we're very optimistic about our chances and see no reason for any concern at this time."

The Aztecs did suffer a bit of a blow when a pair of offensive linemen changed their minds about San Diego State. "We sure hated to lose them," Coryell remarked, "but we'll survive. We've been in worse shape before. It just means the players we have now will have to work a little harder and they will because that's the type of players we have."

Apart from the offensive line duo, everyone else the

Nixies, T and T, Fantastic Four Claim League Honors

The Nixies, T and T, and the Fantastic Four were pronounced winners of leagues at Golden Bowl last week.

The Nixies took the title of the Spring Valley Post Office League with 39 wins, while T and T claimed honors in the Lads and Lassies Loop with 34 victories, and the Fantastic Four nailed down first place in the Family Foursome League.

In leagues still going on, the Golden Bowl hustlers are in front of the pack in the Claim Jumpers League. Team Number Three leads the 7-11 League, and the French Fish Factory is tops in the Golden Juniors League.

In the Golden Bantams League, Bug a Loo's is in front, while the Devils and the Spare Ribs lead the Valley de Oro League and Bob's Window Cleaners heads up the Spring Valley League.

Rounding out this week's leaders are the Yaps, who lead the Alley Katz League, the Lucky Seven, who lead the Mr. and Mrs. League, and Beep the Jeep, tops in the Chiefs and Squaws League.

'Arsenic and Old Lace' Starts Tomorrow Night

By Lynn Jones

"Arsenic and Old Lace," the Joseph Kesselring comedy about two charmingly innocent ladies who fill their cellar with the remains of socially-acceptable roomers, will be the next production of the La Mesa Players.

The show will open tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the Ben Polak Fine Arts Center, 8053 University avenue. Performances will be held on Fridays and Saturdays through September 18.

Lynn Jones

Bob Campbell will direct the show, and Bob Attlesey will do the set designs. The cast will include Marjorie Null and Jean MacKenzie as the two Brewster sisters, Abby and Martha. Don Crouch will play their brother, Teddy, who believes he's Theodore Roosevelt. Walt Starr and Vic Nelson will play the other Brewsters.

Also included in the cast will be Vic Pfeifer as the Rev. Dr. Harper; Dave Cownie as Officer Brophy; Don Bland as Officer Klein; Karan Pannell as Elaine Harper; Horris Maniscaloco as Mr. Gibbs; Campbell as Dr. Einstein; Joe Harris as Officer Harris; Jess Lynn as Lieutenant Rooney; and Harry Cownie as Mr. Witherspoon.

"Goodbye, Charlie," the George Axelrod comedy, will play at 8:30 p.m. Fridays through Sundays in the Coronado Playhouse, 1775 Strand way, through September 11.

FELICITA PAGEANT—Gregor Krueger stars as Richard and Tina Sarno as Felicita in the outdoor pageant "Felicita", which will be staged at Kit Karson Park in Escondido Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 3:30 p.m. during Escondido's annual "Kit Carson Days, September 4-19.

Two Films Planned At Museum

Two films will be shown at the Natural History Museum this weekend, one from Alaska and the other an autumn film from the northeast woods.

"Arctic Wildlife Range" is the story of the great preserve set aside to save some of the vast, unspoiled landscape of northeastern Alaska. The familiar animals of this region — caribous, grizzly bears, ptarmigan, and gyrfalcon — are shown in brilliant color with the emphasis on the value of the wilderness and principles of conservation.

"Autumn Color" is an unusual motion picture because there is no human voice during its entire length to disturb the viewer. It is a unique camera study of fall foliage which provides a new approach to composition, texture, color and lighting.

Films are shown every Saturday and Sunday in the Museum Auditorium. Saturday's film begins at 3 p.m. and the Sunday showings are at 1:30 and 3 p.m. Members are admitted free, as are visitors to the Museum.

USIU Begins Football Drills

Coach Marv Braden, starting his third season at United States International University, was greeted by a turnout of 70 candidates at the first squad meeting last Friday, on the Cal Western Campus.

Braden said that on Saturday the athletes underwent physical examinations and received equipment.

On Sunday the squad was timed for the mile run and in 40-yard sprints, with heavy workouts following on Monday.

"We will practice two times daily until Sept. 10, and after that we will work out only in the afternoons after school," Braden said.

The two-a-day workouts will be held from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p.m., according to Braden, who compiled a 14-6 record in his first two seasons at the Point Loma school.

Assisting Braden will be Lew Erber, Dante Scarnecchia, Mike George and Eric Widmark as offensive coaches, and Bob Bass, Jim Anderson, Jerry Lybarger and Bill Egan with the defense. With the exception of George and Egan, all of the coaching staff returns from last year.

Although only 15 returning lettermen are on the squad, Braden is optimistic and looking forward to a good season. "We have more competition for positions and appear to have more depth than ever before," he said. "We also have a very competitive schedule."

Groundbreaking Ceremony Starts Newest Volkswagon Agency Here

Groundbreaking ceremonies attended by some 60 VIP's were held here today by John Factor Volkswagen, officially marking the start of construction of its new $800,000 authorized VW agency located at the corner of Broadway and Federal opposite the College Square Shopping Center.

The dealership, scheduled to open in January, 1972, will be one of the largest and technologically best-equipped auto agencies anywhere.

John L. Factor, owner and president of the new VW agency, announced that it will occupy a lot site of 177,550 square feet with a frontage of 500 feet and depth of about 350 feet. The dealership will feature a sales, service, parts and complete body shop complex of 32,700 square feet. Included will be an attractive lounge for service customers and a fully equipped and staffed service department providing 23 work stalls and 22 hoists.

Factor formerly was sales manager of Platt Music Corp. (TV, stereo and pianos) having been with the firm from 1946 to 1969 when he joined a leading San Diego Volkswagen agency. A graduate of Hollywood High School, he attended Los Angeles City College and the University of California at Los Angeles. He served with the U. S. Army forces in World War II. A resident of San Diego, Factor is married and the father of two teenage boys and a daughter. His hobbies include swimming, sailing, golf and orchid raising.

Service facilities of the new Lemon Grove agency will include advanced electronic diagnostic equipment to provide VW owners with a written report of some 96 different checks of each car and listing any deficiencies and estimated costs of repair. The VW diagnostic system offered is free to new car owners up to 24 months or 24,000 miles whichever occurs first under warranty. New infra-red test equipment will be used to test each new car sold and each car serviced to make sure of conformity with California's high standards to reduce air pollution.

Factor said that his management staff to include a general manager, new and used car sales manager, service, parts and business managers will be announced before opening.

Invited guests at John Factor Volkswagen's groundbreaking included County Supervisors Jack Walsh, Henry Boney and Harry Scheidle; Fire Chief Dixon and Sheriff Duffy of Lemon Grove; President Bob Russell of Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Helland of La Mesa; Earl Miller, manager of Fletcher Hills Branch, and Al Woods, manager of Lemon Grove Branch, of the Bank of America; D. C. Gilbert, manager of Downtown San Diego Branch of the Wells Fargo Bank; Dick Souders, manager of Downtown San Diego Branch of Union Bank; and Paul E. Iacono, architect of the new dealership.

Other guests were VW dealers in the San Diego area and Volkswagen officials including J. H. McCord, vice president; F. W. "Bud" Parker, sales manager; Horst Ehntholt, general service manager; and Joe Martin, zone operations manager — all with Volkswagon Pacific, Inc., distributor to 122 VW dealers of Southern California, Southern Nevada, Arizona and Hawaii.

Volkswagen of America was represented by Cliff Hanks, regional sales manager, and Reinhard Krueger, regional merchandising manager.

Language No Problem In 'Victory Canteen'

V-Mail, rationing, "A" stamps, Axis, Kilroy, jive, G.I., zoot suit; sound like a language lesson at Berlitz? Maybe, but these are a few of terms to be heard in the new hit musical comedy "Victory Canteen," opening September 16 for a limited engagement at Vincent Miranda's Off Broadway Theatre.

So many of the words and expressions that were popular in the frantic forties are used in the musical comedy that producer Vincent Miranda decided to include a special glossary in the program.

The stage musical, starring Patty Andrews of the famed "Andrew Sisters," is set in an era when the "V-Sign" meant "victory." It all takes place in the "Victory Canteen," a Packard showroom remodeled for the "duration." Packards, if you don't remember, were automobiles.

Servicemen on leave jammed the "Victory Canteen" to jitterbug to the jukebox, drink coffee, eat doughnuts, get involved in some intrigue and, most important, meet the prettiest girls in Willkieville, Indiana. The original production was staged and directed by Jack Baker. James Burrows will direct the San Diego production.

For those who remember the forties, it is an epic of nostalgia. But for those too young to remember, except for seeing the late, late movies, it is a delightfully camp romp into your parents' youth.

The Seventh Annual Mission Bay Photo Festival will be held on the grounds of Vacation Village Hotel in Mission Bay on Saturday and Sunday, October 2 and 3, it was announced today by Chairman Gil Beckman.

On Saturday, Miss San Diego Misson Bay Photo Festival will be selected from the San Diego area models by a panel of judges. Children and character models will also be eligible for prizes on Saturday.

On Sunday, models from throughout Southern California will be eligible for the title of Miss Mission Bay Photo Festival, who will be chosen by popular vote of the photographers.

The festival will run from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. with the awards being presented at 4 p.m. each day. Special musical entertainment will be presented throughout the festival.

Models interested in obtaining applications for the Photo Festival should contact the Mission Bay Associates office at 276-2800.

One More Week For Old Globe's 'Sam'

Woody Allen's popular stage comedy, "Play It Again, Sam" is nearing a San Diego entertainment milestone. The Glod Theatre production is continuing performances at the Carter Centre Stage in Balboa Park through September 12.

At tonights performances, have its 83rd performance, more than any previous play in San Diego stage history. The comedy breaks the record earned last year by "Charley's Aunt" that played 82 performances during a summer engagement at the same theatre.

A total of 96 performances will be presented of "Play It Again, Sam" prior to the closing date of September 12. Performances are nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m. plus Saturday and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m.

Comedian-author Woody Allen played the leading role in the original Broadway production of "Play It Again, Sam" that played for 453 performances during the 1969 and 1970 seasons.

Old Globe Thheatre producing director Craig Noel directed "Play It Again, Sam" for the Cassius Carter Centre Stage. The leading role of a neuortic film writer is played by Michael Biers. Recently divorced by his fun-loving wife, the intellectual has lost confidence in pursuing further romantic adventures.

His masculine hero is film idol Humphrey Bogart. Retreating into a fantasy world, the insecure young man envisions Bogart who offers a "tough guy" approach of how to treat females. B. G. Fisher portrays Bogey in the comedy.

Common law marriages are recognized by law in only 14 states.

'Oiled' Birds Get Treated By Sea World Vet

Sea World has set up a bird treatment center at its Mission Bay headquarters to clean up birds that have been caught in the oil spills off the Southern California coastline.

Since last Saturday, nine waterfowl have been brought to Sea World by concerned citizens, the U. S. Navy and by the Rancho Coastal Humane Society in Solana Beach.

The birds are being treated with a solution of isoparafin, a non-toxic chemical which allows some oil to remain on the feathers for protection.

The birds — six cormorants and three pelicans —are now recuperating at Sea World where they are doing well and eating vigorously.

Dr. David W. Kenney, Sea World's veterinarian and director of animal care and collecting, said birds would be released to their natural environment once the oil spills are cleaned up and it is safe to do so.

Tennessee prisoners who are being released after serving long terms are now being offered recresher driving courses by thhe State Patrol because authorities feel that after years of not driving they are unfamiliar with today's high-speed highways.

Countdown Begins For Aztec Football Team

Aztecs were counting on showed up including seven junior college recruits who weren't on hand for spring ball.

The newcomers of note are: center Larry Bertolucci (6-0, 215, Bakersfield), running back Harry Benson (5-11, 185, Mt. San Jacinto), offensive guard Paul Diebel (6-0, 217, Bakersfield), linebacker Bill Ferguson (6-3, 220. Grossmont), receiver Steve Nieto (6-2, 195, Rio Hondo) and linebacker Loia Paopao (6-0, 229, Mira Costa).

In all, the Montezumans welcomed in 20 returning lettermen, two letter winners who missed the 1970 season, 29 junior college transfers, six redshirts and one man with no collegiate experience.

Three Groups Due Sept. 11 At Sports Arena

Canned Heat, Bo Diddley, and the Grass Roots will appear in casual concert at the San Diego International Sports Arena September 11 at 8 p.m.

Canned Heat, a group that soared to the top of the rock music scene several years ago, is primarily a rock-blues band, but has also cut some country-type blues records.

Their albums include "Canned Heat," and "Hooker 'n Heat", and hit singles have included "Sunshine of Your Love," "On the Road Again," and "Goin Up the Country."

Another group that has been around several years is the Grass Roots, who claimed fame with the hit single, "Mr. Jones" five years ago. After a few years without any "big ones," the Grass Roots have recently cut several hits, including "Sooner or Later."

A well-known top guitarist will open the show. He is "the granddaddy of them all," Bo Diddley, who for the past twelve years has put out such big hits as "Hey, Bo Diddley," "Hush Your Mouth," and "I'm a Man."

Starlight Enjoys Attendance Hike

Overall attendance at the Starlight Musicals at the Zoo, which completed its season last month, showed an 11% gain over last year's highly successful season, it was revealed by Gordon Hilker, Director of United States International University's Center for the Performing Arts.

Hilker said, "We are very pleased to have realized this gain, especially in the face of concentration of traveling musical theatre attractions which came to San Diego during June and July."

The first two shows presented by Starlight Musicals were "The Sound of Music" and "Oliver!" The two productions drew almost exactly the same attendance as last year. The final production, "The King and I," proved to be the biggest hit of the season, surpassing the first two shows by some 12%.

"Particularly interesting to us," Hilker said, "was the marked increase in attendance by children. Also, our season subscriptions showed a splendid increase of 65% over last year with the result that virtually all choice center seats were pre-sold for the entire season.

"Plans are already underway for next year," Hilker concluded. "Results this year more than confirm the effectiveness of our theatre policy which we again will follow next year — presenting large-scale quality musical productions at moderate prices."

BofA Loans $100 Million

Bank of America this week announced it has loaned out the $100 million it had pledged for home loans to low-income families.

In announcing the status of the bank's New Opportunity Home Loan program, President A. W. Clausen said, "More than 6,100 families have received loans totaling more than $101 million since we began the program in 1968."

At the same time, Clausen announced that the bank will commit another $100 million to the low-income housing program. He declined to fix a target date for loaning the additional funds. "As with the original $100 million," he observed, "it will take a period of operating experience before we can establish a time goal."

The banker noted that the bank has a number of applications currently in process which will be accommodated by the additional allocation.

Under the bank's minority and low-income home loan program — the largest such program by a private institution — applicants may borrow under reduced qualifications for construction, purchase or improvement of homes throughout California. The loans may be for one to four family dwellings.

Bids Are Called For On Palm St. 4-Laner

Bids are being called for the reconstruction of Palm st., in Lemon Grove to a four lane thoroughhfare between Imperial ave. east to Golden.

Bids will be opened September 23 and the successful bidder will start the project before the end of the year. Completion should be in about 45 days. The improvement is 0.71 miles.

Palm st. will act as a feeder line to the planned Sweetwater freeway which will be constructed within the next 5-8 years — depending on financing at State and Federal levels.

When Sweetwater is built, Palm will veer north at Golden reaching the freeway north of present Troy st. Palm will become dead-end just west of the new freeway, according to present plans.

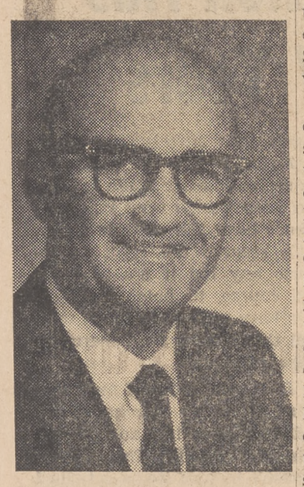

Troy will become an off-road from the freeway west to Palm, following its present alignment.

Utility lines will be undergrounded along the Palm st. improvement by way of a 1911 improvement - type arrangement.

Gibson Named Director Of S.D. Water Authority

John Gibson, a long-time member of the board of directors of the Helix Irrigation District, has been appointed as director of the San Diego County Water Authority.

The Authority is governed by a 35-member board which serves without pay except for a small mileage allowance.

John Gibson

Each of the 22 member agencies of the Authority is entitled to appoint one director plus an additional director for each $115 million assessed valuation. With the appointment of Gibson, Helix has four directors on the Authority. They are Harry Griffen, chairmen of the Helix board of directors; M. J. Shelton, a consulting engineer; Leland D. Pratt, a corporation president, and Gibson. The only other agencies having more than one director are the City of San Diego with eleven and South Bay Irrigation District with two.

Gibson has been a director of Helix Irrigation District since 1959 and represents Division 2 which is the northern portion of the City of La Mesa. He is also chairman of Zone 2 of the San Diego Flood Control Commission. Gibson has resided in La Mesa for 34 years and has been active in various community affairs including the El Cajon Chamber of Commerce, the La Mesa Kiwanis Club, and the ElCajon Boys Club. He is half owner of Ace Van and Storage Company which is the local representative Allied Van Lines in San Diego.

Grand Jury Investigation Called By DA

Nader's report, issued in installments over the last week, told of assessor's office employees speculating in land, with information obtained while in their jobs. Kennedy said his office wants to know if there has been any conflict of interest in these dealings.

E. C. Williams, county assessor, first attacked Nader for the report, claiming there was no truth to it. But Williams backed down when some former employees in his office told of land purchases.

David Smith, the Vista office supervisor, allegedly joined with other assessor office employees to buy land at Borrego Springs. Smith reportedly told reporters he sold his share for a profit of $18,000.

Frank George, a former assistant assessor, also told reporters that employees in the office dealt in land. Assessor Williams then was quoted as saying: "Some people in whom I had a lot of trust violated that trust."

Tape Swapping Is Specialty Of New Firm

Swap-A-Tape, a firm specializing in exchanging stereo tapes and long play records, has opened in Lemon Grove at 7850 Broadway.

Joe Cobern, and his son Ken, will operate it.

The Lemon Grove shop is the second location for the firm — the first being in the Loma Square shopping center.

Tape and LP owners may bring in playable tapes or records and exchange for another for a small fee.

Multiple trade-ins will be accepted on new tapes, the owners said.

Selections include country, western folk, jazz and rock.

All used tapes may be playtested and are guaranteed.

Ken, a San Diego high school student, is a member of the school basketball team. He is a forward/guard.

Swap-A-Tape will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

Pilot Ground Course Slated At Southwestern

A course titled "Pilot Ground School" will be offered by Southwestern Colege beginning September 13 and will meet each Monday and Wednesday night from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. for ten weeks. The course will then be repeated, which permits a student to register at any time and attend for a ten-week period to complete the course.

A Flightomatic Vista Trainer has been obtained by the Aeronautics Department for use in this pilot ground school program.

"The Trainer will be used as a visual aide and to enable students to simulate flight conditions," said Mr. Richard Brannen, aeronautics instructor at the college.

The course will cover all aeronautical subjects required to meet the ground school requirements for an FAA Private Pilot Certificate. The course is offered not only to aspiring private pilots, but will also be valuable for women desiring to aid their husbands as co-pilots.

Registration for this class may be made by attending the class in Room 342 at the College, or for additional information, call the Southwestern Evening College Office.

Association Moves Office

The Heartland Human Relations Association has relocated to 8267 Lemon ave., phone 460-2744. Office space for the association has been donated by the First United Methodist Church.

The office is open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. Volunteers who man the office will be glad to assist any minority member who is looking for housing or employment in the Heartland area.

The purpose of the HHRA is to promote positive attitudes and actions that will ensure respect, acceptance and equal opportunities for all in the Heartland area.

JAMUL GYMKHANA — Over 350 persons showed up at the Corral 44 ring last Sunday to witness the fifth annual Corral 44 gymkhana. The horse show and events lasted about ten hours, and included 21 events. According to Joe Dugan, show chairman, the affair grossed over $1,300.

FORD LINE — Ford Division announced last week that it's 1972 models will go on sale September 24. Included in the 1972 line is the new Pinto, which has undergone only a few changes from the 1971 model. The Pinto's changes include a lower rear window, for better visibility, carpeting as standard equipment, and modified rear springs and shock absorbers. According to John Haughton, Ford Division general manager, the 1972 line will offer the safest cars in Ford's history.

Program Is Working Well Against Pests

A coordinated program designed to protect California's agricultural industry, parks and ornamental plantings, and native vegetation was instituted July 1, and James M. Moon, County Agricultural Commissioner reported last week that the program appears to be working smoothly.

According to Moon, the Pest Prevention System involves four programs: Pest Exclusion, Pest Detection, Pest Eradication, and Public Information and Education. The County Department of Agriculture cooperates with the State in all phases of the master plan, with emphasis on the first two.

The Pest Exclusion Program is familiar to many people who have traveled across state lines, and have had to stop for inspection at the Border Inspection Stations. Moon said quarantine inspections of plant material shipped by mail, express, or other common carriers are also well known.

"Less familiar to the average citizen," Moon said, "is the program of pest detection. Surveys are made to discover incipient infestations of any pest not known to occur in the state. Where pests are already established, surveys are made to determine the extent, degree, or other status of the infestation."

Drum and Bugle Competition Set

The Southern California Drum and Bugle Corps Championships will be held Saturday at 7 p.m. in San Diego's Balboa Stadium.

Nine corps of young people from ages 10 to 21, numbering about 800 strong, have signed up to compete in the 3 divisions of the championships. Divisions are based on age.

Among the non-competing corps on the field will be the United States Naval Training Center Drum and Bugle Corps to be seen in exhibition, and San Diego County's own "Golden Grenediers" Corps of San Diego County will act as "runners."

Two Literature Classes Scheduled For Fall

The English Department of Grossmont College will present the third and fourth in its series of "Advanced Studies in Literature" this fall, with "English 255 — Greek and Latin Literature," and English 256 — Henry Thoreau being offered.

Frank Vittor, Chairman of the English Department, will teach the Greek and Latin Course. Jack Lynch will be the instructor for the Thoreau course.

Both courses represent in-depth treatments of their subject matter and will operate on a seminar basis, with much of class procedure consisting of student-initiated projects. Enrollment is open to anyone who has completed English 122 or who has the consent of the instructor teaching the course.

Three New VD Clinics Scheduled

Three new veneral disease clinics will be added to the County of San Diego Department of Public Health schedule in September.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said today that a new night VD clinic will be held every Monday night from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m., starting on the first Monday after Labor Day, at the East San Diego Health Center, 52nd st. and University ave.

Starting on the same day, an afternoon VD clinic will be held every Monday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the El Cajon Health Center, 113 E. Douglas ave.

Another afternoon VD clinic, to be held from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursdays at the North San Diego Health Center, 2440 Grand ave., will start this afternoon.

Dr. Askew said other VD clinics already scheduled are a night clinic held every Wednesday from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Southeast Health Center, 3177 Oceanview Blvd. in San Diego; an afternoon clinic held Wednesdays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Oceanside Health Center, 104 S. Barnes St., and the daily VD clinic held at the Primary Health Center, 1600 Pacific Hwy., San Diego, from 8 to 11:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, and from 1 to 4 p.m., except Wednesdays.

Dr. Askew said the new clinics are being added to the public health schedule "because so many people are being infected with venereal disease during the current epidemic. All of these clinics will offer confidential diagnosis and treatment of venereal disease to anyone. No appointment is necessary and there is no charge for services which are supported by San Diego County tax funds."

Through the first seven months of this year, 2,622 cases of gonorrhea were reported among San Diego County residents, up almost 32 percent over the 1,987 cases reported in the same period of 1970.

Dr. Askew said most of the cases are reported in young people under 25 years of age. He added that about three cases of gonorrhea are reported in women for every five reported in men.

Tom Clayton Is Member Of National Order

Lemon Grove Rotary club's president, Col. Thomas S. Clayton, was named this week as member of the National Executive Committee of the Military Order of the World Wars The selection was made at the Order's national convention in Seattle. Col. Clayton (U. S. Army ret.) is past commander-in-chief of the organization.

The Military Order is composed of Americans who demonstrated their love of country by serving as commissioned officers in our Armed Forces in time of war.

The Order provides a means by which its members can contribute further to the welfare of the Nation. It holds that it is nobler to serve than to be served and has never asked any benefits for its members for their service to the Nation.

A BUYER FOR EVERYTHING — So affirms "Baron" Sutowski, left, San Diego County coordinator of salvage. The odd figure, being operated here by his assistant, Carl Gerde, was used for many years by the County Civil Service Department in its safety training classes; it was designed to show the effect on the back of different ways of lifting. Items no longer used by a County department are turned in to "The Baron" for sale or use by another department.

County Salvage Operation Has Been 'Recycling' For 17 Years

County typewriters never die; they don't even fade away. They go to "Baron" Sutowski at the County Operations Center, where they are either sold or recycled into a County office where someone needs a poundable typewriter, not a glossy, secretarial-perfect machine.

"The young folk talk about recycling' as if it were something new," said Sutowski, property and salvage coordinator for San Diego County. "This office has been in the recycling business ever since I started here 17 years ago. Nothing that comes in here is wasted; it's either sold or put back to work."

He points to paper-filled cardboard boxes piled around the edges of the warehouse. "We even sell old computer print-outs and out-of-date invoices as used paper. The County institutions that feed people, such as Juvenile Hall, even let us sell their tin cans, grease and bones to companies that recycle wastes."

Sutowski and Carl Gerde started working together in the County salvage operation 7 years ago, and they both agree that there seems to be a market for everything, no matter how bizarre it is or in what condition.

One of their duties is listing and labeling with a County number every new piece of equipment and furniture that the County purchases.

What makes their work interesting is that everything a County office discards as no longer usable, either worn out or completed outdated, is sent to Sutowski and Gerde for disposal.

Some items can be sent to other County offices and used there, especiallly furniture. Sutowski reports that in fiscal 1970-71 more furniture appraised at $47,000 at used-furniture prices was put back into County use.

Through the years, Sutowski and Gerde have handled some extraordinary items. One of Baron's prize memories is of the 500-lb. boar raised at Rancho Del Campo as part of the juvenile farm work therapy. He finally found a buyer for the animal, then on the way from Del Campo, on a sharp curve, the boar knocked out the sides of the new owner's pickup truck, got loose, and was recaptured only after a wild chase.

A lot of livestock has changed hands through the salvage office. Cattle, mules, and hogs raised or used as work animals at adult honor camps or Del Campo find ready disposition.

"Every item we have for sale is sold individually, never by lots. We want to be sure that every taxpayer has a chance to buy, and of course we want to get as good a price as possible," says Sutowski. "Everything is sold where is, as is, and this seems to build buyer confidence. Take County autos we sell. We never wash or vacuum them or paint the tires. The buyer knows that what he sees sitting there is what he gets with no fancy priming."

The policy seems to work. Sutowski says they often receive higher prices than a used car dealer would get.

"Everything is available to County offices first," explains Sutowski. "What we can't put back into County service is then offered to the public on a sealed bid basis. We try not to keep things very long; we don't have the storage space. We reserve the right to reuse any bid if it's too low. Of course, to judge the bids, we have to keep in touch with all the various used merchandise markets."

Last year, sales of merchandise out of his warehouse put $138,000 back into the County General Fund. This figure doesn't include items returned to work which otherwise would have been replaced. Nor does it count items used as trade-ins by the County purchasing agent. Often a better price is received as a trade-in than when sold to the public.

"When County institutions and offices clean out closets, we really get some prizes," Sutowski reminisces. "We can literally say we have everything from soup to nuts; once we had several cases of surplus government soup turned in. Then there were the trousers, size 48 waist, that the Honor Camp couldn't use. Around the office here we're still using part of a couple of cases of Crystal White laundry soap someone found. Piano, portable dishwasher, any and all kinds of office equipment, tires, trucks, and tractors — we get them all."

The salvage office has built up a list of more than 5,000 buyers living from Seattle to Mexico, stating what each is interested in purchasing. Sutowski and Gerde let them know when items in which they are interested are offered for sale; the potential customers trust the County to give them a fair deal.

Registration Open For Dog Training Classes

Registrations are now being taken for the fall session of obedience training classes at the San Diego County Humane Society starting September 14 and 15. Dogs must be over four months old and have all their shots. Cost for the entire course is $12 payable at registration.

Sgt. William Griffin, an experienced trainer, will teach an afternoon class every Wednesday for eight weeks starting at 1p.m. Sept. 15. The classes last for one hour for an eight week period.

Carl Sharratt, long experienced in obedience training will conduct the evening classes. Classes will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesdays and Wednesdays starting September 14 and 15.

A full graduation is conducted at the end of each course with a diploma, ribbons, and a trophy awarded.

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, for the week of Aug 23-30 answered four fire calls and one rescue call.

About $100 damage was done to a shed and a fence at 7725 Alton st., after boys playing with matches and gasoline started a grass fire; a man doing plumbing work in a bathroom at 2435 Washington st., ignited the wall with a torch, but caused no damage; and a car belonging to Margaret Panel, of 7597 Deorlle, was damaged in the amount of $150, due to a broken fuel line.

The rescue run was to 7070 Broadway, Space 65, where oxygen was administered to Henry Mohr, 78, due to impaired breathing.

Bob Mills Due On KOGO-TV

Long one of San Diego's best-known television personalties, Bob Mills will host the afternoon movie on Channel 10, weekdays from 3 to 5 p.m., beginning September 13.

The program, "Dialing for Dollars Movie," features motion picture entertainment, and viewers become involved through telephone participation and are able to win a variety of prizes each day.

In addition, Mills will produce and host a five-minute program entitled "Bob Mills' San Diego." This will be a regular feature on Channel 10 news at 5:30 p.m. and will focus on interesting, unusual or little know aspects of San Diego.

Large backyard swimming pools should be divided by depth lines, the same way that municipal pools are. Depth lines tend to keep swimmers where they belong, according to their experience, instead of letting people swim out "over their heads."
